“ Dear Aunt Ebba, We have so many wonderful memories to cherish! The funny story you told us about you and Mom on the day that she got married. She must have thought so much of you to ask you to be in her wedding. Playing with Mitzi in your Palos Park home. Sliding on the rugs of your sun room. Making your recipe for rice pudding for the first time with you as my taster. It took me a while to get it right! Enjoying all of your stories about your own family and how you met dear Uncle John. Visiting you with our own little girls. How you loved them and fussed over them and how they loved you! Celebrating so many Christmases together with our little St. Lucias. Hearing your wonderfully honest words of wisdom (my daughter described your words as savvy, sassy advice) and your tremendous sense of humor. Feeling so special at your ladies' luncheons. As my mom said so many times, you always looked like a "million bucks", but you were always down to earth. You were a strong, independent woman and a role model for all the women in the family. As my other daughter said, it is fitting that you passed on the same day as Maya Angelou, another woman who gave so much to the world and asked nothing in return. You will be greatly missed, and we will love you always. We know that you are glad to be home with God. We're sure right now that you are giving Him your best advice, and He is listening! Rest in Peace dear Aunt Ebba. The Shawgo Family
